Sports Center, Office Building Will Require Special Town Meeting

The possibility of a special town meeting on zoning loomed this week, following two requests for changes in the by-laws.

A spectacular plan for a three-building sports center on North Main st., on the site of the former Golden Farm, was presented to the Board of Selectmen Monday night.

And later in the evening, the Massachusetts Mutual Insurance Co. expressed an interest in a building site on Lowell st., at the junction of Route 93. This area also would require re-zoning.

In both cases, the spokesmen for the firms said they wished to start building this fall and could not wait for the regular town meeting next March for action on the zoning requests.

Three-Sport Area

The suggested sports area along North Main st. would include year-round ice skating, a swimming pool and a 24-alley bowling center.

Joseph Cardello, an elementary school principal in Waltham, presented the plan to the Selectmen. He and an associate, also a teacher, would own and operate the center, it was disclosed, if permission can be obtained for its location here.

The sports center is unlike anything in this section of the country, it was explained, but is similar to centers in the Mid-West.

The project would cost more than 1/4 of a million dollars, it was disclosed, including construction and the site development.

It would be connected with the present Shawshien Plaza development by a bridge over the Shawshien River and would also have access onto North Main st.

A building about 120x135 feet would house the bowling facilities, while the other two structures would be about 80x110 feet. A small snack bar would be located at bowling area, which would also serve the other buildings.

Cardello explained that the ice skating area would take the form

Collins Gives Instructions For Football Candidates

Andover High's head football coach, Dick Collins, has asked the Andover TOWNSMAN to pass along the following valuable information for all boys interested in trying out for the team this fall.

His letter, of special interest now because practice will begin Sept. 1, follows:

"With the 1959 football season rapidly approaching, I am taking this opportunity to contact all boys interested in playing football for Andover High School. This is being done through the local newspaper rather than the customary personal letter in order to be sure not to leave out any boy genuinely interested in Andover football.

"All candidates for the 1959 team will report for a meeting at the high school Monday, Aug. 31, at 9 a.m. Following this important meeting, equipment will be issued, and the first practice on the field will take place Tuesday, Sept. 1, at 9 a.m.

"This year Andover will face six schools not on last year's schedule, representing some of the strongest squads in Northern Massachusetts. This, coupled with the problems of learning a new system, represents a challenge to all of us and it is imperative that all boys be present and

Voters May Decide On Police Minimum Wage

May Revert To Penny Meters

Main st. parking meters may be changed back to "penny" meters, following a discussion by the Selectmen Monday night. The actual decision was put off until Town Manager Thomas E. Duff can determine how much it will cost to have the meters changed.

The step came after a review of the income from meters during the past five years, and the expenditures for maintenance and collections.

The possibility that meters in the municipal parking area may also be converted to the use of pennies loomed, after Selectman William Stewart commented that at least 37 parking spaces are going to waste there every day.

He commented that no more than three cars use the metered area daily. "The only time it's full is Friday night", he explained.

Although no binding decisions were reached, it appeared that a majority of the Board leans towards changing the meters back to penny usage, based largely on

Central Easily Won Field Day

Central Playground youngsters soundly trounced all comers from the other grounds, during special competitive events Tuesday morning.

Central scored 106 1/2 points, far in front of the nearest rival, Indian Ridge, with 74 points. Other scores were Shawshien, 54 1/2; West Center, 48; and Ballardvale, 32. Each playground started with a handicap, based on the comparison of the enrollment with that at Central, which had the largest enrollment and no handicap.

Here are the winners of the various events, and the playgrounds they represented:

Rubber ball race for girls under four: Susan Wilson, Valerie Selfridge and Gail Thomson, all Central; Robert Lundigan, Central, first; Michael Waldron of Shawshien and Joseph Buck, Central. Candy kiss scramble, ages four, five and six: girls, Wanda Voters may be asked at town meeting next March to adopt a minimum wage for police officers that is substantially higher than the salaries now paid by the town.

This became apparent, following passage of a state law that allows communities to adopt a minimum wage for policemen.

The statute establishes a maximum wage of $5,500, with the first year's pay set at $4,885. The second year would be paid at a rate of $5,080, with the maximum reached in the third year.

In comparison, the present maximum pay for police officers is $4,510 — just less than $1,000 under the wage set by the recently signed law.

The town's salary schedule establishes a starting patrolman's pay at $4,050, followed by annual increments that take the officer to $4,210, $4,360 and then to the maximum.

The statute, passed by both branches of the Legislature and recently signed by the governor, must be accepted by a vote of town meeting before it becomes effective.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff said this week that he plans to find out what other communities are doing about the legislation, when he attends the governor's conference for municipal officials at Amherst. At that two-day session, scheduled for next Thursday and Friday, he said it will be

Discuss Plans For Route 110

Proposed plans for a portion of Route 110 in West Andover were shown to interested town officials Monday morning by the engineers responsible for their development.

Of main concern to the town is dead-ending of streets and the proper installation or re-location of sewer and water lines at the time of construction.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff said he hopes a second engineering firm will be able to show plans for another section of the highway within a week.

He said the engineers did not want to disclose the proposed route of the highway, explaining ready to go on Aug. 31.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN FOR FOOTBALL TEAM

How To Get In Shape

"A vital factor in the success of any football team is physical condition. It is hoped that many boys are already getting themselves into shape. Preliminary conditioning is essential in order to meet the demands of regular practice. The following workout is recommended daily for the two weeks preceding the opening of practice:

"1. Jog 440 yards.

NO SLEDGE HAMMER - This machine is far better than any sledge hammer, as 40-foot steel beams are driven into the ground for the bridge at the By-Pass. The bridge, to carry Route 28 traffic, will rise over the new Route 125, as it comes into the intersection from its interchange with Route 93.

"2. Ten minutes of stretching and loosening exercises.

"3. Build-up exercises - push-ups, sit-ups, pull-ups, neck bridges. Start with a number you can do without straining and increase each workout.

"4. Two hundred yards of wind sprints or 20-30 minutes of touch football. Do not attempt either of these until you have had at least three workouts.

"5. Run a mile for legs and wind. Increase a quarter mile every second workout until you are running two miles. Football is a game played on the legs and feet. The legs must be in shape and the feet toughened against blisters or you will not be able to perform anywhere near up to capacity.

"If any of you are lifting weights at the present time, continue to do so. Weight lifting is one of the finest methods of conditioning and we will install a moderate program in our practice this season. If you are now doing this on your own, remember these two musts.

"1. Use repetitive exercises. Do not attempt to see how much you can lift.

"Lift every other day or three times a week, not every day.

Don't Smoke - Drink

"As your coach, I will demand of you faithfulness to practice and observance of all training rules. In regard to the latter, smoking and drinking will be strictly forbidden. If you have these habits, now is the time to break them.

"Football is a game that is 90 percent determination. Any team can be successful if it wants to be, it all depends on whether or not you are willing to make the sacrifice. Remember, no one in Andover will respect you for your natural ability. You will gain respect only with what you can do with that ability. If you want to become a champion, and there is no sense in playing football unless you do, you must learn to live like one.

"I shall be looking forward to meeting you all and working with you."

Mrs. Folley Will Go To Convention

Mrs. Herbert R. (Bertha K.) Folley, 75 Essex st., Department Auxiliary President, will help open the 46th annual national convention of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars when she marches with her state banner to the stage of the Embassy Auditorium in Los Angeles Aug. 31. Immediately following the convention, on Sept. 5-6, she will participate in a department presidents' workshop at the Biltmore Hotel.

More than 6,000 Auxiliary delegates and members will attend the event, and many will join delegates to the V.F.W. convention in a mile-long parade through downtown Los Angeles on Sept. 1.

The main business of the Auxiliary convention will revolve around the election of new national officers and the introduction of new programs. During the sessions members will learn of a startling advance in basic cancer research that was made possible, in part, by their contributions. They will meet a Los Angeles police sergeant who grew up at the V.F.W. National Home for children of veterans. The Home, in Eaton Rapids, Mich., has been a major Auxiliary project for 34 years. Delegates also will gain a fresh, first-hand glimpse of what their Crusade for Freedom contributions are accomplishing overseas, through the eyes of an American businessman.

Vice-President Richard Nixon will welcome Auxiliary and V.F.W. conventioners to his home state, and Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson will address delegates during the opening sessions.

During the week-long event, the 1959-60 Auxiliary awardees will be named, including the 24 winners in the 24th National High School Essay Contest, the Boy Scout awarded the annual James West Memorial scholarship, and the newspaper receiving the annual Ernie Pyle plaque.

One of the highlights of the convention will be a special welcome to Hawaii, chartered as the Auxiliary's 50th department last April.

Each year the 325,000 Auxiliary members give 3 million dollars and 6 million hours to veteran and community welfare programs in some 6,800 communities. The organization, composed of the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of combat veterans, and women who have themselves had overseas service in the U. S. armed forces, was founded in 1914.

FAMILY COOKOUT

Mr. and Mrs. James Cunningham of Center st., Ballardvale, entertained at a family cookout with the following attending: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cunningham and family of Methuen, Edward Cunningham Sr. and Miss Katherine Cunningham of North Andover, Miss Barbara Cunningham, Miss Francis Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. James Cunningham.

Make a honey of a deal...NOW!

This is a very special opportunity for you to make a big-money-saving deal on a new 59 Ford. Right now Ford Dealers are making longer trades... that bring the cost of owning a new, Thunderbird-glamorous Ford down to a pocketbook-pleasing level. Why? Because there are now more than one million 59 Fords on the road. That means your Ford Dealer can pass along his extra volume savings to you in a tremendous 2nd Million Deal during his Summer Swapping Bee. And that means truly worthwhile economy for you!

The fact is, Ford prices are lowest of the best-selling three for all comparable models. And you can add still more to your savings with the longer trade your Ford Dealer can make you now, during his Summer Swapping Bee! For example, you start with savings of up to $102.75* over Ford's nearest competitor on a new Fairlane 500 equipped the way most people buy cars—with radio, heater, and automatic transmission.

And save as you drive, too! Standard Ford engines (V-8 and Six) thrive on lower-cost, regular gas to save you up to a dollar a tankful. Full-Flow oil filtration (standard in every Ford engine) stretches oil changes a full 4000 miles apart. Amazing Diamond Lustre Finish keeps your Ford's beauty bright without waxing, ever. Ford's aluminumized muffler normally lasts twice as long as the ordinary kind.

Visit your Ford Dealer and Action Test a new Ford. Then let your dealer show you how easy he can make it for you to step out in a brand-new Ford... and how much more you can save by doing that right now!

that it is still tentative. Survey crews are working on the exact route, it was explained by the manager.

The section discussed Monday included the road from Tewksbury to the interchange with Route 93 in West Andover.

Mr. Duff said a second firm has the responsibility for the section running to North Main st., where many homes may be in the path of the land takings. He expressed the belief that the proposed route for this section will be under discussion as soon as the firm can be contacted and asked to meet.

Many residents along the often-discussed path of the highway have been anxiously waiting for detailed information on it, in relation to possible seizure of land.

New-type concrete brings you tomorrow's highways today!

The "feel of the road" is good and solid... new-type concrete gives you the smoothest ride ever!

No annoying dips — no bothersome bumps! The very nature of concrete permits it to be laid truly level, according to precise engineering standards — not just pounded into shape.

New-type concrete gives a smooth ride for an expected life of 50 years and more. There are two good reasons for this: The durable concrete itself supported by a specially designed subbase gives even greater load strength; and a new process called "air entrainment" prevents surface roughening from winter weather and de-icers.

Yet first cost is moderate, upkeep expense is low. Good reasons why concrete is preferred for the Interstate System and other important roads.

are for U.S. defense, too

That's why concrete is vital. It's the only pavement that can be engineered to heavy loads, never loses strength. This assures mobility and freely flowing supply lines for military emergencies.

2 Carriers
Enjoyed Prizes

Two Andover boys had themselves a large time last Thursday. Irving Stowers and Richard H. "Ricky" Harnden, ANDOVER TOWNSMAN newscarrers, were guests of Publisher Irving E. Rogers at the Red Sox — Athletics game in Fenway Park. The "day" was their reward for being winners in a new-reader contest for TOWNSMAN newscarrers held during the early summer. The two boys amassed the highest number of new subscribers.

Highlight of the Boston trip was meeting and chatting with two of the Boston players, Pete Runnels, perennially one of the league's top batters and Don Buddin, Boston's erstwhile controversial shortstop, while Ted Williams chatted with two other youngsters just an elbow's length away.

Young Stowers had attended major league baseball games before but it was the first for Ricky and excitement was the order of the Harnden boy's day. It developed early that there was some dissension in the TOWNSMAN group as the game got under way. While the two other members of the party did the usual and were pulling for the Red Sox to again polish off the Kansas City delegation, Ricky Harnden suddenly announced in no uncertain terms that he wanted the mid-west team to win this one. It developed the reason for this rather unusual turn of events was that Ricky played some shortstop in the farm system of the Andover Little League circuit and was with the Athletics this past season.

The diminutive TOWNSMAN newscarrers' cheers notwithstanding, the game was won by the home forces following a spectacular play by the Sox' third baseman Frank Malzone in a bases-loaded situation with two out in the ninth, enabling Jerry Casale, who had pitched an excellent game to post his eighth win.

Following the game and a dinner, the boys were returned home with much to talk about. Irving, who is 14 and enters the ninth grade in September, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Stowers of Beech cir. Ricky Harnden is 12 and attends the West Elementary School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester J. S. Harnden of 62 Haggett's Pond rd.

Looking Into Dumping Hours

Operation of the town dump appeared to be moving smoothly this week, according to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

In reporting to the Selectmen Monday night, Duff said the presence of a full-time man at the dump apparently is the answer to more orderly use of the municipal facility. He explained that a man, regularly employed there, can direct residents as to where the refuse is to be put. Thus, the problems created by dumping all over the area can be avoided.

He also suggested that the dump remain closed Sundays, and indicated that it might be possible to check on the usage made of the dump by industrial and commercial firms. If the hours when the dump is open can be reduced, the Board agreed that it would be desirable to do so. Present hours are from 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. It was felt that a later opening might be desirable if this did not conflict with too many schedules.

OUR HELP AMIABLY GIVEN

merchants' comments about the nickel meters.
Chairman Eugene A. Bernardin Jr. said several merchants have spoken to him against the five-cent meters, and Board of Trade

President George Lister also has put that organization on record against them. Bernardin said the main complaint is that persons too often park in metered spaces where there are only a few minutes remaining on the meter. Then, hurried by the need to get back to the car before the time runs out, the individuals do not take time to "shop" in the stores. He commented that the merchants felt that a 12-minute period of time, for one cent, would not press the shoppers quite as much as they are now being rushed.

Income Summarized

The town manager's report to the Board gave the following summary of income from the meters from the year 1954:

In 1954, $10,856.32; in 1955, $12,104.04; in 1956, $11,358.62; in 1957, $11,132.75; in 1958 $10,567.90.

So far in 1959, the income has been $5,044.35 for the 222 meters now in use.

Maintenance expenditures for the same years have included the cost of a motorcycle, repairs to the meters, sedan, strip and surfacing parking lots. For the same years, the expenditures for these purposes have been: $1,628.38; $5,223.31 (includes $2,473.03 for a sedan); $1,132.28; $2,153.12; and, in 1958, $1,190.60.

The cost of collections includes, mainly, the cost of police officers' salaries. For the same period of time, 1954 through 1958, the following expenditures have been made for collections: $3,661.70; wages; $5,431.21; wages; $7,514, also for wages; $8,291.88; police wages; and $8,589.50, wages for police officers engaged in collections.

This year, according to the town manager, the police department has included the salary of only one officer in this category, instead of the two who had been paid from meter funds previously. The salary of a man to count the money is $199.05 annually.

Never in The Red

An inspection of the income and expenditures reveals that the fund has never operated in the red. But in the past two years, at least, it has done little more than break even.

The figures for 1954 show a balance of $5,566.24 after deducting expenses from income, as shown above.

In 1955, the net was $449.52 — the year that a sedan was purchased with meter funds.

And in 1956, the meter fund returned $2,712.34, after all maintenance and collection expenses were subtracted.

In 1957, the net shrunk to $687.75.

And in 1958, the net, after expenses, was $687.90.

While the income has steadily decreased since the peak year of 1955, a look at the figures indicates that expenses have as steadily increased. The decision this year to reduce the number of officers working on meters to one will reverse this trend, it appears. Mr. Duff reported to the Selectmen that one man appears to be handling the collections properly, and also is engaged in repairs on the meters found to be damaged.

NEED MEETING FOR 2 PROJECTS

of a studio, rather than the conventional skating rink. While there would be room for hockey practice by local teams, the skating area would not be large enough for actual games.

Rather, he explained, there would be instruction in fancy skating, and opportunity for free skating for all ages.

The pool, of sufficient size for meets, would also be available for instruction and supervised recreation. Red Cross lessons would be available, leading to the Red Cross certificates.

He suggested that family plans probably would be developed, so that whole families can have memberships at the center.

Supervised recreation, Cardello told the Board, will thus be available to those desiring it. Children could safely be left at the center, he stated, while parents enjoy other activities there or go to nearby areas to shop.

In response to a question from Planning Board Chairman Donald Thompson, Cardello said he would have surveys completed indicating the volume of business that might be logically anticipated. Thompson and Planning Board member Harold T. King pointed out that one of the gravest dangers to the town, in allowing this type of center, would be its inability to maintain operations.

In answer to other inquiries, Cardello said the buildings would be soundproofed, so that noise would be held to a minimum; that only a small sign would be required; parking areas will be available in front of and around the buildings; and that about 12½ acres of land are involved in the proposed center.

Insurance Building
Ronald Reader, the Massachusetts Mutual general agent, told the Selectmen that he hopes to consolidate his Manchester office with the office now located in Shawshien. This can best be done, he stated, by putting an office building close to Route 93, so that agents can easily reach it.

He suggested that an area on the right hand side of Lowell st., where six houses now stand adjacent to the highway, would be suitable. Although it is a residential zone, he pointed out that a gasoline station is being constructed next to them, and a motel is planned for the area behind the houses. Reader felt that the structures will depreciate in value as residential property, when they are surrounded by business. But he expressed the idea that the owners could get a reasonable price for the property if it is zoned for business.

He said the building he contemplates constructing on the site would be strictly for office purposes, in use five days a week and not in the evenings. It would have access from Lowell st., but would face on Route 93.

Reader told the Selectmen that he must be out of his present quarters in Shawshien by March, thus the haste in asking for a re-zoning.

The request was supported in a letter from Wallace M. Haselton, chairman of the Industrial and Development Commission.

Mr. Reader noted that he had investigated other areas around Route 93, but had either received negative response from property owners, or had run into property that had a high price tag. He also said that while he prefers to locate the building here, there is one site in Methuen and others in New Hampshire that could be used if it is not practical to re-zone the Lowell st. site.

Zoning Problems

In both requests, the problem of re-zoning arises because the land now is in a residential zone.

Along North Main st., after the river, the area had been used for farming. But the zoning by-laws never established an agricultural district as such and the land is known as residential even though the purpose for which it was used differed from this classification.

The Lowell st. site, it was explained, has changed considerably in nature since it was zoned for homes. The advent of Route 93 and the re-zoning for shopping centers across the street and a motel and gas station on the same side of the street have produced a change in the major use of the land.

In either case, if the Selectmen vote to call a special town meeting, the zoning articles would be referred to the Planning Board. That body would be required by law to hold a public hearing, then formulate a decision to present to the special session.

A two-thirds vote is required to adopt a zoning by-law or an amendment to one.

The Selectmen, who must make the next move by either turning down or granting the meeting, will wait for additional data from the sports center promoters before arriving at a decision.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Please Do Not Disturb

That old wheeze about letting sleeping dogs lie is going to be old hat from now on. The modern version will suggest that court clerks not be disturbed from their sleep.

As of Tuesday, new rates for the obtaining of bail between the hours of midnight and 6 a.m. became effective. These are the little encomiums given to those with the power to accept bail, such as court clerks, their assistants and masters in chancery. It costs money to get sprung once lodged in the bastille.

Under the new rates now effective, the bailer may collect $7 for the first charge and $5 for each additional count. In fact the new rates appear so attractive that those eligible for such rewards will probably be sitting up all night beside the telephone. They never had it so good. Even doctors don't make any more.

Let's see how this could work out. A cop takes off after a driver who went highbaling through a red light at a fast clip. When the officer hauls him to a stop he detects the aftermath of a dry martini and its off to the hoosgow. Since the sleeping accommodations are not too homelike, the defendant wants to get away from it all.

When the bail commissioner arrives he'll probably find the fellow is charged with drunkenness, operating under the influence, operating to endanger, going through a red light and speeding, to name just a few. That's five charges. At the new bargain rates, it will be $7 for one count and $5 for each of the others, or a mere matter of $27. And the defendant will probably have spent most of the night in the brig before the bail commissioner gets there.

If a fellow fell down the stairs and got a bump on his head and a cut on his elbow, he'd be sort of surprised if the doctor told him it would be $7 for the head job and another fin for the arm repair.

How much more difficult can it be for a bail commissioner to get out of bed to spring a fellow with one charge than one with the book thrown at him?

There probably is some justification in these days of increasing fees to up the initial charge for obtaining bail from $5 to $7, but setting up that additional $5 for every other count is hard to understand.

It's cheaper to accept the public hospitality and stay put for the night.

Residents Need To See Plans

Many Andover residents have been anxiously awaiting some definite plan for Route 110, which will cut through several populated areas as it nears North Main st.

Thus they must be pleased to hear, as we did this week, that the plans are progressing rapidly. One section of the new highway is getting into the final design stages, and was the subject of a conference at the town hall. The second, and by far the most important as far as land takings are concerned, probably will be the subject of a discussion within 10 days.

State Department of Public Works officials would certainly be doing the residents a favor by taking them into their confidence as the plans get beyond the tentative stage.

It must be difficult to live with the threat of losing one's home, and the suspense should not be prolonged any more than is absolutely necessary.

We hope the state officials will make known their plans at the earliest possible date, giving the residents an opportunity to discuss the proposals before they become final.

Exploring These United States

Thousands of Americans will be exploring these United States this summer, visiting historic shrines, national and state parks and scenic points throughout the country. The Memorial Hall Library suggests that any trip can be made more profitable through some carefully selected reading beforehand.

One of the best and most recent guides to the national parks is Nelson Keyes' "America's National Parks". Illustrated with over 500 photographs, the book covers 29 national parks of both the U. S. and Canada. Two other books also helpful in providing background material are "The National Parks", by Freeman Tilden and "Exploring Our National Parks and Monuments", by Devereux Butcher. "Our Eastern Playgrounds", by A. F. Merrill is a guide to parks and recreational areas of 16 eastern states.

A number of outstanding series which describe the variety and extent of this country from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the Gulf of Mexico to Canada would include: The Rivers of America; The American Lakes, American Folkways and The American Guide Series.

Anyone planning to visit the Grand Canyon would find it profitable to have first read Joseph Wood Krutch's "Grand Canyon".

Other books of a more general character which would help in working out interesting itineraries would include: "The American Heritage Book of Great Historic Places", Festivals, U.S.A., Meyer — a comprehensive guide to over 1200 annual celebrations throughout the country; Low Cost Trips for the Whole Family in Eastern U. S. and Canada; 1,000 Pleasure Spots in Beautiful America; and Around the U.S.A. in 1,000 Pictures, Runyon.

If the trip is to be by car or trailer, Wells' "Handbook of Auto Camping and Motorist's Guide to Public Campgrounds" will be useful. In the library's reference collection is another helpful publication, Leahy's Hotel-Motel Guide and Travel Atlas of the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Important Adult Books For Young People

The Senior Booklist of the Secondary Education Board lists the following as the best adult books of 1958 for the pre-college reader: "Aku-Aku", by Thor Heyerdahl; "The Black Bull", by Frank Goodwyn; "The Blanket", by A. A. Murray; "Come North With Me", by Bernt Balchen; "Dr. Zhivago", by Boris Pasternak; "J. B.", by Archibald MacLeish; "The Lost World of the Kalahari", Laurens Van der Post; "Mountain Road", by Theodore White; "The Once and Future King", by T. H. White; and "Sunrise at Campobello", by Dore Schary.

Among The Newer Books

"The Improper Bohemians", Churchill — Greenwich Village in its golden era, 1912-1930, when it earned the reputation of being the "Left Bank" of the United States; "An Introduction to the Greek Theatre", Arnott — a description of the background against which the Greek plays were written; "The Temple of the Golden Pavilion", Mishima — About a young Buddhist priest so obsessed by the beauty of a temple and his own alienation from the world that he destroyed self and all that he loved; "France", Guerard — part of the series "The History of the Modern World", published by the University of Michigan, this volume covers a span from Charlemagne to De Gaulle; "Nasser of Egypt", Wynn — by the middle Eastern correspondent of the AP; "Darwin and the Darwinian Revolution", Himmelfarb — the scientific and intellectual background from which the "Origin of Species" derived; "Spaceport, U.S.A.", Caidin — the story of Cape Canaveral and the Air Force Missile Test Center; "The Long Road to Humanity", Coblenz — the story of man's old battle against tyranny.

It was assumed in most quarters this week that, if the municipal officials here do not insert an article in the warrant seeking adoption of the new legislation, individuals probably will seek to do so.

Although the special state legislation applies only to police officers, here in Andover the wage classification is the same for policemen and fire fighters.

The bride is a graduate of St. Patrick's High School and Merrimack College. She is a teacher of biology at Tenney High School, Methuen. Mr. Kennedy is a graduate of Lawrence Academy, Groton, and the University of New Hampshire. He is a teacher of history at Haverhill High School.

ZALLA - BERRYMAN

In St. Mary's Church, Lawrence, at a nuptial Mass at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Miss Maureen Margaret Berryman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Berryman, 25 Bromfield st., Lawrence, became the bride of Eugene A. Zalla Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Zalla, 3 Chester st., Ballardvale. The Rev. John V. Casey, O.S.A., officiated.

Joseph M. Walsh played the wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Brother Louis Donahue, F.M.S. White gladioli decorated the altar.

Miss Sylvia Zalla, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and William M. Berryman, brother of the bride, was best man. William Keath and Clifford Sharpe, both of Ballardvale, were the ushers.

Entering the church with her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white lace and nylon net styled with a sequin trimmed Sabrina neckline and pointed lace sleeves in a fitted bodice. The bouffant skirt of lace and net ruffles terminated in a chapel train. A pearl and rhinestone tiara held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a bride's prayerbook topped with a white orchid and Stephanotis.

Her attendant wore a floor length gown of pink dotted Swiss trimmed with pink velvet and designed with a fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a wide brimmed hat of dotted Swiss with pink velvet trim and carried shaded pink flowers in a cascade arrangement.

Guests from Avon, Tyngsboro, Framingham and Center Ossipee, N. H., attended a reception at the

TABER - COLPITTS

South Church Congregational in Andover was decorated with white gladioli for the marriage Saturday afternoon of Miss Priscilla Frances Colpitts and Kenneth Charles Taber. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fraser Colpitts of Ballardvale, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kenneth Taber of Auburn, New York. Rev. Frederick B. Noss performed the 4 o'clock ceremony. A reception followed at the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely gown of white chantilly lace over sheer satin fashioned with a portrait neckline, short gathered sleeves embellished with pearl and crystal beading. The graceful fullness of her skirt formed a court train fashioned into a pointed line and accented by a scalloped lace edge. Her fingertip illusion veil was held in place with a crown of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a Bible with a crescent bouquet of cymbidium orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Suzanne Cleveland of Kensington, Md., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, Miss Mary Belka, of Andover, Miss Linda Marks of Exeter, N. H. and Miss Carol Sinclair of Warren, R. I. were the bridesmaids. Miss Nancy Colpitts of Ballardvale, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. All the attendants wore gowns of aqua silk organza fashioned with dainty cowl necklines and harem-style skirts. Their Regency headpieces were of matching circular veiling caught by dainty leaves and pips. They carried cascades of yellow daisies and ivy.

We Want YOU to be -- SAFE

Insurance can do much more for you today than was possible when you bought your first policies. One of the big improvements is the "package" type of policy in which you get protection, not only against fire or other damage to your property, but also against theft losses and those liability claims that are increasingly common today. May we tell you about it?

CO-OP PERSONALITIES
Esther

Sixteen years ago, a young graduate of Pynchard High School came to work at the Andover CO-OP. Business was increasing, and a book-keeper was needed. Sales that year were $60,000 and increased to $1,000,000 last year, but not even such an expansion in business upsets the Co-op's efficient Esther Dimlich.

Until a few years ago, Esther filled in on the cash register occasionally, and many of the longtime CO-OP shoppers will remember her cheerful smile. Newer members seldom see her now, however, for keeping the growing accounts of the CO-OP today is a full-time occupation.

A hard worker, and one who can handle any emergency with a cool head, Esther is one of the reasons why our customers and our suppliers like to do business with the CO-OP.
